Forecast For Northern Ireland
Issued by Met Office Aberdeen
at 0400 on Sunday 23 May 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Morning rain then brighter with showers this afternoon.

Today:
A cloudy morning with outbreaks of rain, the rain heavy for a time before clearing to brighter conditions through the afternoon with sunny spells and occasionally heavy showers. Fresh southerly winds easing. Maximum temperature 12 deg C (54 deg F).

Tonight:
Sunny spells and showers this evening, the showers tending to die out towards midnight. Then dry overnight with some long clear spells, and perhaps a few fog patches, developing. Minimum temperature 2 deg C (36 deg F).

Monday:
A bright morning and early afternoon with some sunny spells and a few showers developing. Becoming cloudier later in the afternoon with some patchy mainly light rain possible. Maximum temperature 15 deg C (59 deg F).

Outlook for Tuesday to Thursday:
Sunny spells and a few showers through Tuesday and Wednesday with fresh northwesterly winds easing. Dry with sunny spells Thursday but cloud and patchy rain edging east in evening.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.